Meet a New ISOO Member, Dr. Dimitra Galiti

Dr. Dimitra Galiti

My name is Dimitra Galiti and I am a graduate of the School of Dentistry, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Greece. After dental school, I attended the two-year Program of Advanced Education in General Dentistry (AEGD) at the University of Connecticut. I have also attended the Program of Forensic Odontology and have received a Master's Degree from the University of Leuven, Belgium.

I am currently a PhD student in the Department of Oral Diagnosis and Radiology at the Kapodistrian University in Athens, and I also maintain a private practice. I work in the area of oral complications of cancer therapies and am particularly interested in the prevention, early diagnosis, and management of osteonecrosis of the jaw in patients who have received anti-resorptive and/or angiogenesis inhibitors as part of their cancer therapy.

I'm a member of the Hellenic Society of Oral Oncology, the Mediterranean Multidisciplinary Oncology Forum, and a founding member of the Hellenic Society of Head and Neck Cancer. The major focus of these organizations is the promotion of the discipline of Oral Oncology in Greece, as well as within the other countries of the Mediterranean Basin.

I feel blessed to be a part of ISOO in order to gain further insights into the oral supportive care of cancer patients, to develop motivating collaborations, and to find international friends who share my professional interests. I believe that the mouth is the mirror of overall health and that oral health is extremely important to the oncology patient.

RECRUIT A COLLEAGUE IN 2016!

Make 2016 the year you introduce a colleague to MASCC and ISOO! We currently have more than 1,000 members worldwide, representing more than 60 countries and 6 continents. In the past year, we've seen an increase in members from all countries, most notably Denmark and India. Membership benefits include a free subscription to our monthly journal, Supportive Care in Cancer, access to members-only areas of our website, discounts on supportive care books and meeting registration fees, and numerous opportunities to work with MASCC/ISOO Study Groups, to exchange ideas and expertise, and promote supportive care in cancer. Membership is open to medical and surgical oncologists, radiologists, nurses, dental professionals, pharmacists, social workers, dietitians, psychologists, students, industry representatives, and anyone interested in the prevention and management of the adverse effects of cancer and its treatment.

The Global Oral Cancer Forum

ISOO PRESENCE

March 4-5, 2016 • New York City, USA

Worldwide, more than 400,000 patients a year are diagnosed with oral and oropharyngeal cancers. Morbidity and mortality rates remain disturbingly high.

On March 4-5, 2016, over 200 clinicians, scientists, epidemiologists, activists, and public health experts, representing over 60 countries, gathered in New York City to build awareness of gaps and innovations in prevention, patient care, technology, and services across the oral cancer continuum. Many ISOO members were in attendance.
